SPEAKER: Miriam Pawel, Author of "The Browns of California"

In this seminal biography, journalist and historical scholar, Miriam Pawel, brings to life an enchanting narrative history that spans four generations. Beginning with August Schuckman, who came to California in 1852, settling on land that was then Colusi County in the foothills West of present-day Williams. Pawel segues seamlessly to the current day. Schuckman's great-grandson, our former Governor, Edmund "Jerry" Brown, Jr., now lives on this land in retirement. One hundred, sixty-seven years separate the two settlements. Copies of Pawel's book will be available.
